Tsinghua China Law Review Submissions Call

The Tsinghua China Law Review (“TCLR”), ISSN: 2151-8904, is the first student-run, English-language journal of legal scholarship published by a mainland Chinese university. Established in 2008, the TCLR is dedicated to advancing the global academic discussion of all issues relating to China law. Over the past decade, we published carefully selected scholarly articles and notes biannually in the United States. These articles are included in renowned databases including HeinOnline, LexisNexis, Westlaw, Vlex and ChinalawInfo. Since 2016, the TCLR has been indexed by ESCI. In 2017, the impact factor and journal cites of the TCLR ranked 1st among English law journals in mainland China and 9th among English journals in the field of Asian law (source: 2017 Washington & Lee Law Journal Rankings). In July 2023, the TCLR will publish Volume 15, Issue 2. We sincerely encourage scholars and legal practitioners to submit original articles on topics relating to China law.
